Rising on Rule 53(6) Senator Emmanuel I. Paulker (Bayelsa Central) drew the attention of the Senate to its Conference Committee Report on the National Assembly Budget and Research Office (Establishment, etc.) Bill 2017:

The Senate recall that the Conference Committee Report on the National Assembly Budget and Research Office (Establishment, etc) Bill 2017 was adopted by both the Senate and the House of Representatives; aware that Clause 5 (2) (i) of the Conference Committee Report as adopted did not reflect what was agreed by the Conference Committee; and recalls that the Conference Committee adopted the House version of the Bill in clause 5(2)(i) which is to the effect that "(i) the President of the Senate as Chairman and the Speaker of the House of Representatives as alternate Chairman".

Accordingly resolves to:

- (i) rescind its decision in adopting clause 5 (2) (i) of the Conference Committee Report for not being consistent with what was agreed to by the Conference Committee; and
- (ii) adopt the House version on the Conference Committee Report on clause 5(2)(i) to wit: "the President of the Senate as Chairman and the Speaker of the House of Representatives as alternate Chairman and six Members from the Senate and six Members from the House of Representatives representing each geopolitical zone" as being consistent with what was agreed to by the Conference Committee.

7. Matter of Urgent Public Importance:

Rising on Rules 42 and 52, Senator Monsurat J. A. Sunmonu (Oyo Central) drew the attention of the Senate on the 2017 International Day of the Girl Child. She sought and obtained the leave of the Senate to present the matter forthwith:

The Senate notes that October 11 is observed as the International Day of the Girl Child. The United Nations declared this day back in 2012 to highlight and address the needs and challenges girls face while promoting girls empowerment;

further notes, that the United Nations observed that the world's 1.1 billion girls are a source of power, energy and creativity - and the millions of girls in emergencies are no exception. This year's International Day of the Girl Child (IDG) is a continuation in the effort to spur global attention and action to the challenges and opportunities girls face before, during and after crises;

aware, that the International Day of the Girl Child is an international observance day, the observation supports more opportunity for girls and increases awareness of gender inequality faced by girls worldwide based upon their gender. Girls in conflict-prone areas are 90 percent more likely to be out of school as compared to the ones in conflict-free countries. Education and schooling comprise their future and potential to be creative;

further aware, that Gender Based Violence (GBV) affects all areas of a girl's life and raises serious issues such as female genital mutilation which is a widespread problem. The United Nations Children's Education Fund (UNICEF) estimates that over 130 million girls have already been affected around the world. Child marriage is also a concerning issue in Africa and especially in Nigeria. According to estimates, one in seven girls is married off before they turn 15;

recognizes, that the International Day of the Girl Child is not just about empowering women, it also acts as a day to redouble global efforts to improve a girl child's life;

further recognizes, that the celebration of the day also reflects the successful emergence of girls and young women as a distinct cohort in development, policy, programming, campaigning and research;

worried, that thirty million of the world's Fifty-Seven Million children who are out of school are in sub Saharan Africa and ten million of this thirty million are in Nigeria - the highest in Africa;

further worried, that though a campaign to end child marriage across Africa was launched in May 2014 by the African Union, and also attempts have been made to stop harmful practices such as female genital mutilation, it is estimated that still thirty million girls in Africa are in danger of undergoing female genital mutilation in the next decade;

knows, that goal 4 of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), is to "ensure inclusive and quality education FOR ALL and promote lifelong learning"; and appreciates, that there have been legislations in Nigeria such as the "Child Rights Act, 2003" that ensures the "Rights and Welfare of Children" and the "Universal Basic Education Act, 2004", that makes the "Education of the Nigerian Child free, compulsory and enforceable rights, with penalties for parents and guardians who fail or neglect this obligation".

Accordingly resolves to:

- (i) congratulate the Girl Child and the Nigerian Girl Child in particular on the celebration of the 2017 International Day of the Girl Child; and
- (ii) urge the Federal Government to:
 - (a) ensure the implementation of the Universal Basic Education (UBE) Act in all the States of the Federation;
 - (b) ensure the domestication and implementation of the Child Rights Act in the thirteen States that are yet to do so; and
 - (c) ensure the domestication and implementation of the Violence Against Persons Prohibition Act 2015.
